

THE EVENING BULLETIN

Published for the Proprietor by ROSSER & MCCARTHY, Proprietors. THURSDAY, MAY 8, 1890.

To the Democracy. At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Democratic party of Mason County, called by its Chairman as per call of the State committee, it was decided that the Democrats of Mason County meet in their respective precincts on Saturday, May 10, 1890, at 2 o'clock p. m., to select delegates to the county convention on May 17, 1890, at which latter date delegates are to be selected to the State convention that meets at Louisville on May 28, 1890, for the purpose of nominating candidates for Clerk of the Court of Appeals. The county convention shall be called at 2 o'clock p. m., at the court house in Maysville, Ky.

It is also ordered that the same delegates, who are selected at the precinct meetings on May 10, shall be empowered to nominate, on May 17, a candidate to represent the County of Mason in the convention to frame a new Constitution for the State of Kentucky.

In pursuance of the call for a Superior Court convention, it is now ordered by the Executive Committee of Mason County that the Democrats of Mason County shall meet in mass convention at the court house in Maysville on Monday, May 12, 1890, (county court day) at 10 o'clock p. m. to select delegates to represent Mason County at the convention to be held at Lexington, Ky., on June 11, 1890, at 12 noon, to nominate candidates for the office of Judge of the Third Superior Court District.

In selecting delegates the Cleveland and Thurman vote shall be the basis of representation. THOS. J. CROWTHER, Chairman Executive Committee. CLARET S. WALL, Secretary.

Table with 3 columns: Precinct, No. of Delegates, and Total. Lists precincts like Maysville No. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100.

FARMER, NED, is no much of a city conversational speaker, but it's in a Republican State, which probably accounts for the President approving a bill providing for a public building for the town. Dulles, Pa., is a big city, but it's in the biggest Democratic State in the country, which probably accounts for the recent vote of its public building bill by Mr. Harrison.

GEORGE CLEVELAND went down to Washington the other day to attend to a little law business in the Supreme Court and the whole country, from Maine to California, from Oregon to Florida, has called his visit. H. B. Hayes has just returned from a visit to the Bermuda and nobody has missed him. He is longed for up from Havana to Cleveland, truthfully regrets the Louisville Times.

Knocking Out the Gophers. Republican congress are beginning to perceive that the policy to which their party is committed in Congress means nothing less than a deficit, says the New York Evening Post. The Philadelphia Press, for example, has an article entitled "A Little Plain Arithmetic," which points out that the enactment of the pension bill which was passed by the House will use up the surplus over and above the starting fund, and that the McKinley tariff bill, with its treasury clauses, will leave nothing for the sinking fund. The silver bill, which has been agreed upon by the census, will cost $10,000,000, less on average, and the public improvements contemplated will call for $20,000,000 more than the estimate, while public buildings and other additions to the estimate stand for another $10,000,000. "This," says the Press, "is a deficit of $70,000,000, if Congress carries out its present plans and the payment of pensions and the debt both go on. If the payment of the debt is stopped, the retention of the revenue will take the rest, and the silver bill and public works, buildings, and so on will still leave a deficit of over $30,000,000." Our Philadelphia contemporary also calls attention to the interesting fact that a deficit for the fiscal year 1891 will be reported on the eve of the next Presidential election, and that "it will not be explanation of a kind which no party in this country has had to make since 1860, when the Democrats had to report a deficit."

Our Republican friends will please bear in mind that it is one of their own party organs who did the figuring given above. The situation must be getting very interesting when they talk so plainly to their heads.

SERVICE PENSIONS.

What Some of the Leading Papers Think of the Morrill Bill.

Springfield Republican: What is to supply this money?—For the surplus has remained out of consideration below the food of devices for expending it. Why, the people must be taxed for it. Directly or indirectly the people have to pay for these things.

New York Commercial: If the Senate had carried home from the South all the movable property and all the houses and all the land their body would have been worth one thousand million dollars less than they will have received through the pension rolls on the National Treasury.

New York Evening Post: The spectacle of hundreds of thousands of men drawing from the Federal Treasury $100 a year to which they have no just claim will have a most unfortunate effect upon their neighbors, and then, as they will be scattered all over the North, upon the general public.

Philadelphia Telegraph: Forty-two millions of dollars a year in the minimum estimate of the sum appropriated by this legislation, and experience shows that this estimate is more than likely to be doubled by the practical working of the measure if it becomes a law.

Railway News. The earnings of the Chesapeake and Ohio for the fourth week of April show an increase of $15,125.25 over those for the corresponding week of last year.

For the month of April the aggregate increase of $124,244 is shown. The figures are: April, 1889, $1,127,750.00; April, 1890, $1,251,994.25.

Commencing May 31, the C. & O. will adopt the central standard time between Washington and Cincinnati, but between Washington and Clifton Forge the schedule by the central standard time will be used.

A Tough Owl Story. The Standard Journal, which is one of the best and most reliable papers in the State, says: "A son of S. R. Cook had a pretty tough experience this week. He saw an owl fly into a hollow stump, about twenty feet high, and climbed up to get some ash on the bird's tail. In doing so he fell into the hollow in such a way that he was unable to get out, and it was not until two days had passed and search had been made everywhere that he was found. His little dog was seized by the stump and acted in such a way as to cause an examination, when the boy was found wedged in his narrow prison too weak to balloon. He was soon extricated and was safely lowered from his terrible entanglement."

Senator Beck's Wealth. The Louisville Post has the following: "Major Thomas, in speaking of the late Senator Beck, said: 'He was worth about $100,000. The idea that he was millionaire is entirely erroneous. Mr. Beck made a great deal of money. I remember on one occasion he said I received $5,000 each, and our profits were $25,000 each. But he always did a great deal for his relations. They are not rich and Mr. Beck's bank account was always open to their use.'"

Local Estate Transfers. Ed Coffey and wife to Henry Gifford, George Johnson and Frank Moore, lot in Washington, consideration, $50. J. F. Williams and wife to Augustus Senior, a horse and lot on the east side of Center street, in Clifton; consideration, $500.

Win. S. Frank to Harvey O. Wells, a house and lot on the south side of Third street, between Limestone and Plum; consideration, $4,000.

Democratic gains and Republican losses, in the story told by the municipal elections in Indiana this week. That was the result where there was any contest. And that has been the result in nearly every contest since 1880. The Democrats seem to have had their fighting clothes on their line now.

Here and There.

Mrs. R. E. Manion, of Covington, is here visiting friends. Mr. S. S. Donnell has returned from a business trip through the South.
